Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland.

GEORGE the Fourth, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith and soforth, to all unto whom these Presents shall come greeting. WHEREAS our Royal Father and predecessor King George the Third of blessed memory, duly considering that the regulation of the Profession of Surgery was of the utmost importance to the public, and highly necessary to the welfare of mankind, and that the public sustained great injury from the defects in the system of surgical education in Ireland, and that the regularly educated Surgeons of the City of Dublin, in our Kingdom of Ireland, (who had become a numerous and considerable body) found themselves incompetent, from the want of a Charter, to establish a liberal and extensive system of surgical education in our said kingdom, by his Letters Patent, bearing date the 11th day of February, in the 24th year of his Reign, did erect, found, and establish a College or Corporation of Surgeons in the City of Dublin, by the name of "THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS IN IRELAND."

And whereas the wise and benevolent design and intention of our Royal Father has, from that period to the present day, had the most beneficial influence, by improving the Profession of Surgery, and thus promoting the welfare of the nation at large, and particularly by providing a sufficient number of properly educated surgeons, as well for the service of the Public in general as for that of our Army and Navy.

And whereas we are graciously pleased to approve of the said institution and foundation, and conceiving that certain alterations may be made in said Charter, so as to constitute a Corporation in our said City of Dublin, consisting of regular, able, learned, and experienced practitioners in surgery, endowed with powers, jurisdictions and privileges, convenient and requisite for enforcing a due course of regular education for the apprentices and students of surgery, previous to their tendering themselves to the College for examination, and further empowering the Corporation to create a fund (payable by their members, licentiates, apprentices, and others applying for instruction and examination) sufficient for keeping the several buildings and schools of the said College in proper repair, enlarging them when required, and supplying the library and museum thereof with suitable books and anatomical preparations, as well as for discharging all salaries and defraying all other expenses which the said College may incur. Know ye, therefore, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, in compliance with the humble petition of the President and Members of said Corporation in College assembled, presented to our right trusty and entirely beloved cousin and counsellor, Richard, Marquis Wellesley, our late Lieutenant-General and General Governor of Ireland; and by and with the advice and consent of our right trusty and entirely beloved cousin and counsellor, Henry William, Marquis of Anglesey, K. G., our now Lieutenant-General and General Governor of that part of our said United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, called Ireland; and upon the surrender made by the said President and Members of the aforesaid Letters Patent, granted by our Royal Father, which we have graciously accepted, and according to the tenor and effect of our Letters under our Privy Signet and Royal

Sign Manual, bearing date at our Court, at Windsor, the second day of June, 1828, in the ninth year of our reign, and now enrolled in the Rolls of our High Court of Chancery of Ireland, have granted, ordained, constituted, and appointed, and by these Presents, for us, our Heirs and Successors, do grant, ordain, constitute and appoint James Henthorn, Rawdon M'Namara, John Hart, George Renny, Francis White, Robert Moore Peile, Robert Barlow, William Corbet, Francis L'Estrange, Francis Hopkins, Michael Molony, John Morton, Francis Rogan, Joseph M.
